

Talk Of Ammunition Shortages In Korea Alarms Lawmakers

By DON WHITEHEAD

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. James A. Van Fleet has booted the Army's lid of secrecy off the hush-hush talk of ammunition shortages in Korea—and the alarm reverberated in Congress today.

The Senate's armed services committee wants to know if military planners are responsible for shortages which, according to Van Fleet, have included even hand grenades needed for close-in mountain fighting.

Felt For 22 Months

However, the Army's chief of information, Maj. Gen. Floyd Parks, told newsmen later Pentagon records showed no hand grenade shortages in Far East depots. Parks did not discount possible local shortages "due to distribution difficulties," but said there were enough grenades stocked to last 90 days under normal conditions.

At the peak of fighting last fall, Parks said, Allied artillery outfired the Reds five to one.

One Senator, who asked that his name not be used, quoted Van Fleet as saying shortages have been felt for the past 22 months and will not be entirely wiped out until sometime this summer.

Van Fleet's testimony yesterday captured so much interest that he was asked to appear again today before the Senate's armed services and appropriations committees.

News Soft-Pedaled

There have been rumors and reports for some time of ammunition shortages in Korea but the military has soft-pedaled comment on security grounds. And the general impression had grown that the situation had been corrected.

But Van Fleet in his public and closed-door testimony said it has not been corrected entirely even though he reported shortages to the Pentagon over a period of 22 months—all the time he was commanding the Eighth Army.

Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) heard Van Fleet's testimony and then wrote a letter to Secretary of Defense Wilson demanding an explanation and asking who was responsible. Byrd said: "To me such a situation extending over 22 months represents criminal inefficiency."

At the Pentagon, a spokesman said Secretary Wilson already was considering the reported shortage. He said Byrd's letter would be (Please Turn To Page 12, Col. 7)

School Enrollment Padding Bared To Increase State Aid

LANSING (AP)—What appears to be Michigan's biggest case yet of school enrollment padding to obtain excessive state aid money has been uncovered in Sandusky, it was reported today.

Dr. Lee M. Thurston, state superintendent of public instruction, said Willard De Jong, his investigator, had turned up discrepancies in the Sandusky public school system which indicated the district had obtained $62,500 more money than it had coming last year and had claimed $72,000 more than due this year.

Can Get It Back

Dr. Thurston ordered all payments to the district stopped and turned the case over to Attorney General Frank C. Millard for further investigation.

In previous "padding" cases Litchfield obtained $13,000 illegally and had claimed another $1,111 and North Adams had received $21,614, illegally. Both were forced to pay it back.

Dr. Thurston said the damage in the Sandusky case was not irreparable because the district still had $116,000 coming to it this year from which overpayments could be recaptured.

De Jong, Dr. Thurston said, reported discrepancies between the teachers' classroom records and the number of pupils reported to the county school superintendent. The latter figure forms the basis of state school aid payments.

Official Gets Suspicious

Dr. Thurston credited the county school superintendent, John Francis, with uncovering the case originally. He said Francis became suspicious of enrollment figures which "did not jibe."

Sandusky School Superintendent Harry Smith cooperated, Dr. Thurston said, and eventually asked for a state audit.

Dr. Thurston said Clarence G. Carlson, former high school principal who recently took a job in New York State, returned to make a statement to De Jong. He said he did not know what the statement contained.

Negress Beats Bill In Lansing Senate

LANSING (AP)—A soft-spoken Negress, first woman of her race to sit in the senate and second woman in history to be elected to that body, won a hands-down victory in the chamber yesterday after less than two months of legislative experience.

She is Senator Cora M. Brown, Detroit Democrat and former policewoman who since has become an attorney and was seated in the Senate Jan. 14.

She beat Senator Don W. Gilbert (R-Saginaw), on his bill to require the defense in criminal trials to provide the prosecution with the names and addresses of character witnesses.

Miss Brown contended the bill would permit police and prosecutor staffs to scare away character witnesses by interrogating them before the trial.

Business firms were to close today for two hours as an "Americanism observance." Last night, all residents who opposed the film were asked to turn on their porch lights in a "freedom" demonstration.

A spokesman for union and Hollywood backers of the production, which has been denounced in Congress as Communist propaganda, announced yesterday the crew shooting the movie would be out of the area by tomorrow to forestall any more violence.

Representatives of the movie makers have denied the film is Communist propaganda.

Stalin Death Flash Gets Beethoven Music

WASHINGTON (AP)—When the flash on Premier Stalin's death reached radio station WGMS last night, the playing of a recorded version of Beethoven's Fifth Symphony had just been started.

Instead of interrupting the program, scheduled long in advance, the announcer read the bulletin over the music.

The first four notes of Beethoven's Fifth are three shorts and a long (...), the same as the Morse code pattern for "V."

Congress Puts Its Rebuke Of Russia On Shelf

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress put the Eisenhower administration's proposed blast against Russian "enslavement" of other peoples on the shelf today amid signs it may never be revived in its present form.

Some lawmakers predicted the cold war move initiated by Secretary of State Dulles will be abandoned.

But Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) said he was working on a proposal which he believed would meet the objection of Democrats to including in the pending resolution a rider saying it neither validated or invalidated World War II big power agreements.

Smith said he had enlisted some support for a proposal to have Congress declare that the Russians had enslaved other peoples, without mentioning Yalta and other agreements at all.

Going In Cooler

Sen. Gillette (D-Iowa) has had the same idea in mind.

Smith said the Dulles-sponsored resolution is "going in the cooler" with the approval of State Department aides, if not Dulles himself.

As matters stood, Dulles appeared to have lost his first self.

Atomic Attackers Beaten In Games At Camp Drum, NY

CAMP DRUM, N. Y. (AP)—Defender troops have beaten off—for the second time—aggressor forces using make-believe atomic artillery in winter war games here.

The 82nd Airborne Division's 505th Regimental Combat Team was awarded the victory yesterday after completion of the second three-day tactical problem in Exercise Snow Storm.

The losers—the 278th Regimental Combat Team from Ft. Devens, Mass.—were routed last week by the 82nd Division's 325th Combat Team in the opening problem.

The 278th, pressing an "invasion" from Canada, exploded a simulated atomic shell that inflicted uncounted "casualties" on counterattacking defender troops.

Despite the explosion, the defenders captured high ground and sealed off the aggressor troops' escape route.

Some 82nd troops who have completed winter training headed yesterday for their base at Ft. Bragg, N. C. A convoy of 2,889 men of the 325th Combat Team left in 502 vehicles.

No Word of Tribute

The official U. S. message was sent at the President's direction by Secretary of State Dulles to Jacob D. Beam, U. S. charge d'affaires in Moscow, for delivery to the Kremlin. It said:

"The government of the United States tenders its official condolences to the government of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics on the death of Generalissimo Joseph Stalin, prime minister of the Soviet Union."

Observers noted that the message complied with requirements of international courtesy without including a word of sympathetic tribute.

In a different vein were messages sent by two officials of the United Nations, of which the USSR is a founding member.

Lester B. Pearson, U. N. General Assembly president and foreign secretary of Canada, telegraphed Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky that the world organization had "lost one of its founders and the Soviet peoples the man who was their indomitable leader in the common struggle."

Bandits Injured In Wild Chase

ADRIAN (AP)—Two men accused in the $5,525 hold-up of an Ohio bank were police prisoners in Bixby Hospital today as authorities prepared formal charges against them.

The men, identified as John Harsh, a 41-year old ex-convict from Toledo, and Walter Niles, 23, of Adrian, were captured yesterday after a wild chase that started with the holdup of the Pioneer Banking Co., of Pioneer, O.

Harsh and Niles were captured at an intersection three miles west of here after their car collided with another vehicle following a gun battle with police.

Deputy Sheriff Clair Lee said Harsh and Niles were identified by Ohio authorities as the men who held up the bank. He said the $5,525, in bills of small and large denominations, was recovered from the getaway car.

Harsh was hospitalized immediately after his capture. He suffered critical injuries. Niles was taken to the Lenawee County Jail, then removed to the hospital in a dazed condition. Police said Niles told them he could remember the holdup, but little else about the preceding 24 hours.

Soviets Plan Big Funeral For Stalin, Dead At 73

Shift In Leadership Of Russia Holds Up U. S. Policy Changes

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Changes in Soviet leadership following Premier Stalin's death seem certain to slow down the making of basic new foreign policy decisions promised by the Eisenhower administration.

By President Eisenhower's own estimate, the situation facing the U. S. government in the future—involving questions like a cold war peace or new outbreaks of hot war—is so unpredictable that its attitude can only be one of sharp watchfulness.

Uncertainty Continues

Furthermore, in the opinion of other high government officials, this uncertainty may continue for many months.

Secretary of State Dulles, at the time of his nomination for the No. 1 Cabinet spot in the Eisenhower administration, said he would promptly undertake a review of U. S. policies all over the world.

Dulles said that might take a year. He said many policies might be retained but he hoped that new and better ones could be found in most instances.

The critical Far Eastern situation growing out of the communization of China and the Korean and Indochinese Wars is clearly one place where the administration is committed to produce some new approach if at all possible.

May Get Worse

Dulles spoke at a time when the U. S. had to assume that Russia would continue pretty much on the same familiar lines indefinitely under the leadership of an aged but apparently healthy Joseph Stalin.

That assumption has now been destroyed.

The impact of its destruction on American and Allied interests depends primarily, of course, on what happens in Moscow with respect to (1) the choice of a successor, and (2) the policies of the new strong man and the extent to which he is able to make them effective.

Some persons high in the new administration are known to have regarded Stalin as a moderating influence on aggressive Soviet policies. They feel some apprehension that his removal from the (Please Turn To Page 12, Col. 6)

Condolences on the death of Premier Stalin of Russia, terse and plainly designated "official," were transmitted to Moscow on President Eisenhower's orders last night.

Other comment on the death of the man who led the Soviet Union and world communism ranged over a wide field of speculation about what will happen now and included some personal tribute.

The official U. S. message was sent at the President's direction by Secretary of State Dulles to Jacob D. Beam, U. S. charge d'affaires in Moscow, for delivery to the Kremlin. It said:

Spiritual Diary For Lent

They brought forth the sick into the streets, and laid them on beds and couches, that at the least the shadow of Peter passing by might overshadow some of them . . . and they were healed every one. —Acts 5:15-16

We may debate the riddle of mind and matter and delve into the depths of fate and free will, but love and loyalty count for more. No doubt there is a place for talk, agenda and discussion, but bravery, truth, honor, good will and good work, each man at his post, is what the troubled world needs in our day.

—Joseph Fort Newton

TODAY'S MESSAGE

This little picture from the Book of Acts (see text), whether we take it literally or interpret it in terms of the minds of the bystanders, is a parable of life. The power of the shadow we cast is a fact to be reckoned with. It becomes the more important when we realize that we are quite generally unconscious of the effect so produced. As Peter marches down the street, his thoughts undoubtedly center upon the sermon he is to preach to multitudes, or on high matters to be brought up in the council of the church. It does not occur to him that the greatest thing he will achieve that day is to leave a healing shadow in his wake.

We inevitably bless or harm others by the shadows we cast as we go about the business of the day. We are responsible for our influence as well as for the words we speak, the activities on which we spend ourselves. Thoreau summed up the whole matter in one golden sentence: "If ever I have consciously affected another human being, it is something insignificant compared to the good or evil I am constantly doing to him by being what I am."

—CARL H. ELMORE

TODAY'S PRAYER

Help me, O God, as I plunge into the busy, crowded hours of this day, to remember constantly that I may accomplish even more by what I am than by what I do. Amen.

President Advises Stores To Revive Memories Of Past

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower says he would like American merchants to offer some of their customers an old-fashioned line—memories.

It would be good for the children, he said, and listed some he had acquired in the neighborhood stores of his own childhood—"the open cracker barrel, the prune barrel, the pickle jug or keg," as well as the homely remarks, proverbs and aphorisms that shopkeepers and customers swapped.

The President went to a luncheon of the American Retail Federation yesterday and, he said, "just got to talking." The result was his plea for something for the children, which he said they couldn't get from Christmas Santa Claus or television sets.

Four carloads of FBI agents, accompanied by local policemen, took Miller into custody after they surrounded a Somersworth, N. H., address where Miller was living with an unidentified girl friend.

Miller offered no resistance when FBI agents broke into the house. The girl was not held.

The FBI put Miller on its list of 10 most wanted men only Wednesday and hundreds of posters were distributed asking for information about his whereabouts.

Local police said Miller had changed his appearance so much by having his hair dyed that "it would have been hard to recognize him from the FBI posters."

That annoyed the GOP and it passed Prescott's resolution.

Williams said he would not withdraw his present budget because he has a constitutional right to make recommendations to the Legislature.

But he gave Prescott a "ample" budget which showed that the state would only have $19,000,000 for all state government out of present revenues if it paid the $90,000,000 treasury deficit and gave the schools what they had coming.

Democratic senators said it was silly to even think about such a budget, but they had to say it afterwards because the GOP slapped in a gag rule and passed the demand without permitting a word of debate.

Decision For Legislature

Then, says Prescott, the legislature can decide how much more state service it wants and can raise taxes to meet the needs. He concedes that more tax money is necessary but he wants the Legislature to decide just how much—not Williams and Steadman.

SEOUL (AP)—Determined South Korean soldiers today beat off five bloody Communist counterattacks and held grimly to a newly won, shell-scarred knob on Sniper Ridge on the Korean Central Front.

Chinese Red assaults, supported by stinging artillery and mortar fire, forced the South Koreans off the outpost briefly but they later stormed back in a bitter hand-to-hand battle.

Allied soldiers made no effort to hide the fact that the death of Russian Premier Joseph Stalin—like the death of any Communist—was good news to them. But few thought it would have any effect on life in the bunkers of the bleak battlefield.

In the air, eight U. S. B29 Superforts rode out scattered Red anti-aircraft fire and dumped 80 tons of bombs on Communist troop and supply centers along the battlefield. Crewmen reported good results.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said twin-engine B26 bombers, hampered by overcast skies, destroyed 95 Red trucks, one locomotive and 12 boxcars last night. Allied fighter-bombers destroyed 15 more boxcars in early morning raids.

Leader Of Reds Succumbs After 4-Day Illness

By EDDY GILMORE

and THOMAS P. WHITNEY

MOSCOW (AP)—The body of Premier Joseph Stalin, dead at 73, today awaited a state funeral befitting world communism's second great leader and one of the most powerful men in history.

The Soviet man of steel, whose power and influence reached a third of the world's people, died in the Kremlin at 9:50 p. m. (1:50 p. m., EST) last night—four days after a brain hemorrhage left him unconscious and partly paralyzed.

For 29 years he had led the 200 million people of the Soviet Union and called the turn for Communists the world over.

Giving no hint of who might succeed him, a joint statement by the Soviet Communist party and the government called for continuation of such Stalin policies as strengthening the nation's armed forces, increased vigilance at home and tighter bonds with Communists throughout the world.

Fugitive Killer Caught By FBI

BOSTON (AP)—Perlie Miller, 31, one of the FBI's 10 most wanted fugitives, was arraigned before a U. S. commissioner today following his capture last night in Somersworth, N. H.

Miller had been sought since 1948, when, the FBI said, he bashed in a guard's head and led a band of six other convicts in a flight from a Yancey County, N. C., prison camp.

Four carloads of FBI agents, accompanied by local policemen, took Miller into custody after they surrounded a Somersworth, N. H., address where Miller was living with an unidentified girl friend.

In Glass Casket

The statement said the body of world communism's fallen leader would lie in state in the beautiful Hall of Columns in Moscow's House of Trade Unions—only a few hundred yards from the great Lenin mausoleum in Red Square where the body of the founder of Russian communism lies embalmed for posterity in a glass coffin.

A committee of top Soviet leaders was appointed to arrange the funeral but its date was not immediately announced. Nor was there any word of Stalin's final resting place.

The death of the man who sparked the development of Russia from a near-feudal farmland to a great industrial power exceeded only by the United States was first announced by Moscow radio at 4:07 a. m., today local time (8:07 p. m., EST Thursday), in a broadcast aimed to Soviet provincial newspapers.

Official Message Read

Two hours later, Moscow radio's star announcer, Yuri Levitan, told the saddened nation that its chief had succumbed. Levitan twice read both the official announcement and the final bulletin from the 10 Kremlin doctors who had been in constant attendance on Stalin since his stroke Sunday.

The radio then played the solemn last movement of Tchaikovsky's "Pathétique" symphony.

The official announcement said: "There has ceased to beat the heart of comrade-in-arms and genius—continuer of the cause of Lenin, the wise leader and teacher of the Communist party and the Soviet people—Joseph Vissarionovich Stalin. The death of Stalin, who gave all his life to dedicated service to the great cause of communism, is the heaviest loss for the party and workers of the Soviet nation and for all humanity."

It was issued in the name of the Communist party's Central committee, the Council of Ministers (government cabinet) and the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet.

The Russian people appeared stunned and grief-stricken by the news. To many, Stalin had seemed like a father. "Excuse me," said one Muscovite chauffeur of his own tears, "he was a real person."

City Approves Local Bidders

Installation of plumbing in the city-owned Solar building on First Avenue North and the purchase of piping for a lawn sprinkler system at the city's new water filtration plant at Sand Point were authorized by Escanaba City Council in meeting last night.

The $2,734 bid of Moersch & Degnan, Escanaba, for plumbing at the Solar building was low and was accepted. The other bid was $3,295.70 by R. G. Beck Company, Escanaba.

On recommendation of Robert Clayton, superintendent of parks and forestry, the city accepted the bid of Northern Heating & Supply Company, Escanaba, to supply flexible plastic piping for a lawn sprinkler system at the water plant. The bid was $690.31 and the lowest received.

Anthony Appointed

In other business the Council approved a lease for $1 and other considerations with Harnischfeger Corporation to provide Harnischfeger with a city-owned site on Stephenson Avenue for construction of a warehouse.

John Anthony of Anthony & Company, Escanaba, was appointed to the Civil Service Commission to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Carl Benzinger. The Escanaba Chamber of Commerce had submitted a list of three nominees for the Council to consider: Anthony, Howard Fontaine and Alfred Bonamer.

The Council gave first reading to an amendment to the zoning ordinance and set April 2 as the date for public hearing. The amendment affects the front yard regulations for commercial and industrial buildings in residential areas.

Plan Annual Clinic

Council also authorized the city manager to invest temporary surplus city funds in U. S. government bonds and in U. S. treasury bills so the city derives interest revenue.

Dr. I. H. Wood, veterinarian, asked the Council to consider the sale to him of a piece of city-owned land along US-241 at the north city limits as a site for an animal hospital. The Council referred the request to the Planning Commission with a request that study of prospective uses of the former government ore dock area be made by the Commission.

Stephen Marvic, gravel contractor, appeared before the Council to discuss the possibility of having the city reconsider his bid for gravel to be supplied the city. The city has already entered into a contract with the lowest bidder, a Wisconsin firm, and Marvic was advised the Council could now do nothing regarding the matter.

Lawrence Grenier, Former Resident, Dies In Beloit

Lawrence Grenier of Beloit, Wis., former resident of Escanaba and a member of the Escanaba Municipal Band at one time, died yesterday at his home following a three months' illness. He was 48.

He was born in Escanaba Aug. 5, 1904, the son of Mrs. Leo (Aure) Grenier of 1704 1st Ave. S., and the late Mr. Grenier. He attended school here and later was employed by the Chicago & North Western Railway. In addition to membership in the Escanaba Band he played with a number of orchestras in the area. He moved to Beloit in 1928 and operated a gas station there 20 years.

Surviving are his wife, one daughter, Karen, his mother, an aunt, Mrs. Odilla Courteau of Escanaba and several cousins in the community.

His mother who is ill will be unable to attend the funeral services which will be held in Beloit.

Parking Meters:

Council Considers Meters As New Revenue Source

Looking toward a new source of revenue to meet demands for increased service without raising taxes, the Escanaba City Council last night approved a motion to give immediate consideration to the installation of parking meters in the city.

The discussion of city revenues, taxes, and parking meters came about in connection with a petition of businessmen requesting that snow removal by the city be extended on Ludington Street between Stephenson Avenue and 23rd Street.

The petition was referred to City Engineer Loren Jenkins for a report on estimated cost of the requested snow removal, and the Council decided to undertake a study to determine if parking meters may not be the answer to the problem of raising money to help meet street maintenance costs.

Would Keep Taxes Down

City Clerk George Harvey was authorized to contact other cities in the Upper Peninsula to determine their experience with parking meters. All of the larger U. P. cities have meters except Escanaba.

Recognizing that Escanaba is expanding, the Council nevertheless appeared to be averse to increasing the general property tax to meet demands for specific services such as snow removal outside the limited time parking areas in the city.

"If we are going to meet such requests for service we will have to find some other source of revenue or raise taxes," observed Councilman Guy Knutson.

Mayor Robert E. LeMire pointed out that by action of the Delta county board of supervisors a 10 per cent increase in property valuations, meaning a 10 per cent increase in taxes, will go into effect this year.

"With the installation of parking meters the city might be able to avoid raising its city tax rate, at least," he said. "This would save our city taxpayers about $28,000 a year."

Effect On Budget

"I do believe the Council should give immediate thought to the installation of parking meters," the mayor continued. The present angle parking would continue, he said.

He directed attention to the need for immediate action because the city manager will soon begin preparing the city budget and it will be up to the Council to advise the manager whether the city will or will not levy its taxes on the 10 per cent higher valuations imposed by the county board of supervisors.

"If we have meters I believe we will not have to have that increase in city taxes," Mayor LeMire said.

Attention was also directed to the fact that some citizens are asking that a 2.5 mill tax rate for street improvement be wiped out. The special millage for street has been in effect for two years.

Met Opposition

In reply to questions, City Engineer Jenkins said he estimated the cost of snow removal on Ludington Street at 40 cents per lineal foot. The area between Stephenson and 23rd Street is, he said, "almost entirely parking for private business and the advantage of our customers."

"Whether the taxpayers as a whole should pay for snow removal under those conditions I don't know," Jenkins added.

Councilmen last night in discussion recalled that about four years ago the subject of parking meters was debated, with Escanaba merchants opposing their installation. The retail committee of the Chamber of Commerce circulated petitions opposing the parking meters and presented the petitions to the Council.

The Council in discussion pointed out that revenue from parking meters comes from tourists and visitors to Escanaba as well as from local motorists; that the meters would be installed without cost to the city and would be paid for through meter revenues.

The city engineer's report on snow removal costs and the city clerk's information on the experience of other cities with meters is expected to be received at the next regular meeting of the Council.

Bond Proposal For Ford River School Debated

Because it has a poor collection rate of taxes Ford River Township will have to pay a higher interest rate when it borrows money to build a proposed school, Hagle Quarnstrom, county superintendent of schools, told 14 Ford River Board of Education and Lions Club members last night. The group met in Ford River Mills School to discuss plans for the school.

Residents will sell bonds to finance the school, if they decide to build it, and will tax themselves over a period of years to retire the bonds. Quarnstrom said that in 1950 when tax payments were first turned in to the county treasurer's office, on March 1, 1951, only 61 percent had been paid, and in 1951 only 63 percent.

However, he said, by July 1 of those years 78 percent and 79 percent and 85 percent. This is also paid, and by October 1, 83 percent, respectively, had been taken into account in determining interest rates, he stated.

Quarnstrom estimated the cost of a five-room school at $115,000. He said the cost to each resident would be about $150 per month for each $1000 of property assessment.

Emphasizing Ford River's need for a new school, Quarnstrom said in four years present facilities will be too small if the current trend keeps up. By then at least five teachers will be needed, he declared. He said Ford River would then either need a new school or would have to send half of some grades to school in the morning, half in the afternoon as Wells is doing this year.

He recommended the Board of Education hire Fred Thrun, a Lansing attorney specializing in school bond issues, to handle legal work in connection with the proposed school.

Mrs. Chester Feak, secretary of the Board of Education, announced a meeting in Ford River Mills School March 30 at 8 p. m. for all people in the vicinity to discuss the proposed school and ask questions about it. Quarnstrom will be present, she said. A Board of Education meeting at 7:30 will precede the larger meeting.

Meetings at Kasten School and South Ford River School for the same purpose will be announced later, Mrs. Feak stated.

The Ford River Lions Club, as a representative township group, is working with the Board of Education in support of the proposed school.

Catholic High To Save Taxes, D'Amour States

The new Catholic Central High School in Escanaba will result in a saving to the local taxpayer, a saving to the taxpayers of the state and increased funds available for operation of public school systems of the state, the Rev. O'Neill C. D'Amour said in a statement issued today.

Fr. D'Amour is executive secretary of the Marquette Diocese Board.

"In these days in which the state is faced with a lack of money for the public schools, the private schools of Michigan are the bulwarks against lowering public school educational standards because of lack of funds," Father D'Amour stated.

Savings to the taxpayer in local taxes for support of public schools would amount annually to more than $70,000, Father D'Amour said he based this on an annual estimated educational cost of $300 per pupil, minus $173 per pupil annually supplied in state fund aid.

This leaves $127 per public high school student cost to be borne locally, he said. With an estimated 600 students enrolled at Catholic Central, there will be an annual saving to the taxpayer locally of 600 times $127, or $76,200 per year, according to Fr. D'Amour.

"Savings in Investments"

The saving on a state level would amount to $103,800 per year, or more than one million dollars in a ten year period, Father D'Amour said.

This is figured on the basis of 600 students in Catholic Central who otherwise would be supported partially by state school aid in the amount of $173 per student per year," he said.

He said that the $103,800 annually would mean just that much more money available to the public school systems for their use.

The estimated savings "do not take into account the tremendous money saved the taxpayer through savings in capital investment—the terrific cost of paying for more and newer buildings in which to house the expanding public school population," Father D'Amour reported.

1,300 Catholic Students

Father D'Amour, added: "We must remember that none of these savings include the huge sums saved the taxpayer because of the existing Escanaba area Catholic schools. There are some 1,300 grade and high school students now attending Catholic schools of this area."

"Private schools, regardless of any religious affiliation, save the American taxpayer millions of dollars every year. Money for

Silly Smelt Season Soon In Full Swing

By JAMES A. O. CROWE

Associated Press Outdoor Writer

LANSING (AP)—Probably the silliest season of all in Michigan outdoors is almost upon us.

The smelt dipping season will soon be in full swing, but silly or not it is a lot of fun.

Consider the basic ridiculousness of catching bushels upon bushels of very desirable fish by simply dipping them out of the water with nets, washtubs, bushel baskets, hats or simply cupped hands.

That is what happens when conditions are just right during the smelt spawning season. The silvery little fish swarm so thickly up streams emptying into the Great Lakes and some inland lakes that at the right moment it would be impossible to try to get a pan of water out of the stream without having a smelt or two in it.

Add to this basic ridiculousness the gay, mad mood that runs through the hundreds and thousands of dipnetters who gather for the sport and you have a situation that you have to experience to believe.

Into the swarming river of fish charge hordes of dipnetters, scooping up fish as fast as they can while the peak of the run lasts.

In between peaks, the dipnetter storm around the country and into nearby towns to keep the excitement going day and night.

It surely is silly, but it sure is a lot of fun too.

This whole thing started many years ago, because someone thought landlocked salmon would be nice fish to have in Crystal Lake, Benzie County.

The salmon were planted, and at the same time a few smelt, native to the Atlantic Ocean were put in the lake too. The idea was that the smelt would provide food for the salmon.

the public school system comes from taxes which all of us pay regardless of religious belief or political affiliation. And it is well to remember," Father D'Amour concluded in his statement, "that those who support private schools with their own funds also support the public schools through taxation."

Proposal To Increase State Tax On Cigarettes Lacks Justice

WHENEVER government finds itself in need of extra money—and anyone who knows anything about government knows that is just about all of the time—the tax wizards look to such things as liquor and cigarettes for easy pickings. These are luxuries and the theory is that if people want to use these unessential commodities, they should be willing to pay a heavy tax for the privilege.

The theory is fine and the tax receipts from excise levies on these products show that it works. However, there is a point of diminishing returns and that point has certainly been reached in the case of liquor. Tax revenues from liquor sales have dropped following the last increase in liquor taxes.

Now there is a clamor to increase the cigarette tax in Michigan from 3c a package to 4c a package. The tax, you may remember, was created a few years ago as a means of paying off the bonds for soldiers' bonuses.

Michigan finds itself once again a financial mess. The search is now for more revenue. It's not surprising, in view of past experiences, that the revenue boys should cast a covetous eye at the cigarette trade. A proposal to increase the cigarette tax is the result.

The federal tax on cigarettes, however, is 8c per package now. The state tax is 3c. That is quite a hunk of taxes to be saddled on a commodity that retails for less than a quarter. And, of course, in addition there are all other taxes that apply—Michigan sales tax, real and personal property taxes, etc., etc.

Michigan cigarette smokers are now paying a direct excise tax load of $91,371,000. A 1c per package increase would send this tax burden past the $100,000,000 mark.

This tax load, mind you, is not something that is imposed on high income people. On the contrary, the record shows that the tax load is borne equally by low income people as well as high income people. It is not a tax levied according to the ability to pay nor a tax levied with the principle of benefit received.

The legislators should look for their new revenue source elsewhere. The cigarette smoker already is carrying a terrific tax load.

Non-Communist Oath Once Useful

IT is a commonplace that Communists lie as easily as they talk. They think nothing of swearing a false oath if it suits their tactics of the moment.

One may wonder, therefore, how the non-Communist oath required of all union officials by the Taft-Hartley law could ever have been even slightly useful. Nevertheless, it was.

That was so because many key labor men in 1946 and 1947 were well known as Reds. They could not have succeeded at the bald device of false swearing. Thus a good number were pushed off the labor stage. Others were penalized in a different way, when the CIO purged whole unions that were dominated by Communist leadership.

But the pattern has changed. Key Red operators are deeper underground today and those planted in unions are not so easily recognizable. They can take the anti-Communist oath and never bat an eye and who will be the wiser?

The administration and some top lawmakers are talking of requiring the same oath of corporation managers, to "balance" matters. But the chances are that the oath has outlived its usefulness and might better be discarded altogether.

LEARNING BY DOING

NEITHER PRICE CONTROLS nor rationing can solve a nation's food problems. Only the law of supply and demand does that. This truism—being rediscovered in the British Isles—was exemplified by Food Minister Gwilym Lloyd George in a radio broadcast.

British people are complaining because cheese is a bit scarce. The reason, the food minister explained, is that they are drinking 60 per cent more milk than formerly and making correspondingly less cheese. What they need is more milk, or more cows.

Now tea—price controls were lifted and subsidies removed, and prices began to drop, for England has 23 rival brands available.

Said Mr. Lloyd George: "Competition did what price control used to do, only much better."

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Secretary John Foster Dulles, meeting with top officers of the State Department, turned to Chip Bohlen, new envoy to Russia and chief interpreter for FDR at Yalta.

"What's this I hear about some running accounts of Yalta being on file here?" he asked. "I told the senators that there are no such notes, and thought there were not. Now I hear that there are."

"We got them back from the White House," replied Bohlen. "They carry little of importance, mostly rather bum jokes by the President and Mr. Churchill. The senators have all the agreement material. The stenographic notes are not essential. Some of the jokes might unintentionally hurt the feelings of one or another of our current allies."

"If I'm queried by the senators I'll stick to my old answer," countered Dulles. "I don't know of any stenographic notes in the files."

"I suppose that's all you can do," observed Bohlen.

PENALTY FOR AN EDITOR?

The Senate Interior Committee called a special secret session early this week to consider the question of disciplining or even recording the indictment of Bernard Tassler, managing editor of the American Federation of Labor magazine "The American Federationist" for his criticism of tidelands oil senators.

This unusual procedure was hushed up behind closed doors, but senators were told to be present at 9:30 a. m., 30 minutes before the public session opened. A special request was made to have a quorum present in order to take important action.

Simultaneously, editor Tassler was called by Stewart French, clerk of the Interior Committee, and asked to be present. Tassler replied that he would be glad to appear before a public session, but said he would not participate in any star-chamber proceedings.

What caused all the senate indignation was an editorial in the Washington News captioned:

"The 300-Billion Dollar Offshore Oil Giveaway"

It was signed by the "Citizens Committee Against the Offshore Oil Grab," of which Tassler is a leader.

PRICE DANIEL FUMES

The man who got literally purple of face over this ad and wanted to discipline Tassler was freshman Senator Price Daniel of Texas, who received heavy campaign contributions from Texas oilmen and who made tidelands oil one of the chief issues of his campaign. The paid aid raised the question as to why a small group of senators were in such a rush to pass the tidelands oil bill. "Is it," the ad asked, "a payoff for lavish campaign contributions last fall?"

When the secret meeting convened, however, Senator Daniel, a freshman Republican, kept silent. He let older GOP Senator Guy Cordon of Oregon carry the ball.

"The American people want to know," Cordon read the ad, his face flushing, "why congress is in such an unseemly rush to give away $300,000,000,000. What's the explanation? Is it true that the plan is to rob the American people for the benefit of a few, greedy, powerful interests?"

"Let there be a searching, open, honest bipartisan investigation to find out whether it is true that some high administration leaders and some members of congress now sweating to rush through the offshore giveaway . . . had their election campaigns of last fall lavishly financed by the oil industry?"

"The American people are highly suspicious, because they know that it just doesn't make sense for senators and congressmen from the 45 states which would lose heavily by the proposed giveaway, to be working for the giveaway legislation."

"This is the reason for the widespread charge that the giveaway deal is just a pay-off to those who contributed lavishly to campaign funds last fall. Is this really true? Or is the charge untrue?"

OIL MONEY FLOWED

Senator Cordon looked around the room indignantly as he finished reading, then handed the ad to Senator Molly Malone of Nevada. By that time only seven senators had arrived, not enough for a quorum, and a quorum is necessary to take such important action as the disciplining of a newsman.

So the committee went into a public session, and the question of proceeding against Tassler was left in mid-air. Wiser senators are hoping Cordon and Daniel will cool off.

Note—Illustrating the oil contributions outside Texas, here is a partial listing of the $53,000 given away by Texas oilman H. R. Cullen during the recent campaign: Eisenhower, $5,000; McCarthy in Wisconsin, $5,000; Jener in Indiana, $3,500; Cain in Washington, $1,000; Brewster in Maine $1,000; Watkins in Utah, $1,000; Pat Hurlley in New Mexico, $1,000; Malone in Nevada, $1,000; Ecton in Montana, $1,000; Kem in Missouri, $1,000. Price Daniel of Texas also got $5,000. All of the above have voted for tidelands oil except Malone, Ecton and Watkins, and it now appears that Watkins has changed his views and is for the oil interests.

Texas Cattlemen Want Rain, Not Subsidy, As Beef Price Declines

By GAYNOR MADDOX

FORT WORTH, Tex.—(NEA)—Beef's cheaper—down about one-quarter from this time last year, about a third of some cuts. Joy to the family budget. Gloom to the Texas cowboys.

While the housewife broils her prodigal steak, many a small Texas rancher scans the blue sky for signs of rain and begins to wonder where his next meal will come from.

Yet he doesn't want any Federal price support program. I heard that over and over as I traveled more than 1000 miles by automobile through this state where the cattle population is larger than the human population.

Drought for three years, the high cost of feed, and overproduction (we have more cattle today than ever before in our history) have forced many cattlemen to sell their range cattle quick and at a heavy loss. Several men told me that calves which cost them 30 cents a pound to raise now bring only 17 to 18 cents a pound in the glutted market.

Ranchers are beginning to cut their purchases of things made in other parts of the country. Harry A. Knibbe runs the general store and gasoline station at Spring Branch. That's in the south central part of this greatest of cattle-raising states. His customers are all ranchers owing from 500 to 1500 acres.

"They are cutting their buying 15 to 20 per cent," Knibbe said in his slow Texas drawl, surveying his stock of flour. "And we've been lucky around here," he added. "Some rain and a mild winter so far."

E. H. Specht, a tall, middle-aged rancher who owns 1000 acres, joined the conversation. "You tell those people who think it's good news for everyone that meat prices are topping that I just had to take $87 for some of my 400-pound calves. A little while back I was getting $150 to $165 for them."

Yet most Texas cattlemen insist that no form of artificial controls would do any good. Jake Miller, a furrow-faced commercial breeder near Coleman (the central dry country), squatted before a pen of his cattle which he knew he was going to take a loss on and said slowly: "I was raised on a ranch. No honest cowboy thinks Washington can run our business better than we can."

"Controls have made feed harder to get," he continued. "I'd rather see no controls on anything. But if the Government can do anything about getting us some rain, well, that's different."

In the past 17 months the rainfall was only 13 inches against a normal 45. In the southwestern part of the cattle and sheep country you see very little stock; ranchers have either moved out or sold their animals.

Even if it rains now, they tell you, it will be two years until the range grass grows enough for them to restock. The price of cotton seed brick, corn and other supplementary protein foods which they have been forced to use, as compared with prices they are getting for their cattle, is ruinous.

"Beef cattle prices are down 30 to 60 per cent," Charles Neblett, Jr., of Stephenville (north central section) told me. He raised registered cattle for breeding and is a director of the local bank. "Nearly everything an animal eats these days has to be bought."

He pointed to a handsome bull. "He's got a lot more feed in him than anyone is going to pay me for these days. And I'll bet you 80 per cent of the purebred bulls sold this month went for much less than the cost of production. It has cost me $25,000 to own my business in the past three years."

The banks are watchful, but are not calling in loans the way they did in 1931-2, Neblett said. "Things went worse since this June. Banks got realistic, not brutal. I wouldn't say the bankers forced any liquidations. No, they just made the ranchers see the facts of life and persuaded them to sell out quick and get what they could."

Weather, nothing else, has brought about this situation, Neblett insisted. "Not Truman policies, controls or anything else, just lack of rain."

"However, I never did see any good in controls or compulsory grading," he added. "They ran costs up and were an expensive nuisance. Get rid of them and everyone will have better meat for less money."

He declared Government price support of corn is helping to put the rancher in drought areas out of business. "We cattlemen in the southwest need a free market and rain. Then we can look after ourselves."

In Austin, John Q. McAdams, former State Banking Commissioner, told me pretty much the same thing. "Texans are used to overcoming adversities," he boasted. "Bankers know that and aren't afraid of this situation."

Only one rancher I talked with wanted Government support. He was D. W. Page, a rancher for 35 years in Comal County. He said he was holding his calves in hopes the Government would do something quick to send cattle prices up.

"If they don't do that," he said with lean stoicism, then they should remove support from grain. That would help us. And we sure need help."

But in Fort Worth at the annual Fat Stock Show, you could barely hear the bellowing of the Hereford, Black Angus and Brahma bulls for the loud denunciations of any Government interference with cattle prices.

THE REVOLUTIONARY—A man known to millions as Joseph Stalin, generalissimo and prime minister of the Soviet Union, is dead.

But Stalin is not his real name and he is not a Russian.

Within his lifetime the man known as Stalin became a legend to the revolutionaries. Today, at the age of 73, he is feared and respected, hated and mourned.

Much of the facts of the man's life are known and recorded—and forgotten. For legendary figures maintain their importance and their power by fiction, not by fact.

The fact is that Stalin was the product of revolution and there is no other man of equal legendary importance to succeed him in Russia.

THE DRUNKARD'S SON—Iosif Vissarionovich Dzhughashvili was born in 1879 in the small town of Gori in Georgia, a province in southern Russia. His parents were not Russians nor any other kind of Slav.

His father was a shoemaker who drank himself to death. He died when Iosif was 11 years old.

The boy's mother was a devout Christian and wanted her son to study for the priesthood. At the age of 15 Stalin graduated from a parochial school and moved from Gori to Tbilisi, capital of Georgia. There Iosif entered a theological seminary to study to become a priest, while his mother made a living for them both.

At the age of 19 Iosif joined the Russian Socialist Democratic Party and broke with religion. He was expelled from the seminary the following year before he was graduated.

RIOT AND EXILE—The young man's secret work as a revolutionary against the czar's government quickly brought him into trouble.

He helped organize a street riot of workers in 1901 and for two years afterward fled from one place to another to escape arrest. The short young man with the unruly black hair and big nose was caught in 1903 and sentenced to three years' exile in Siberia.

Four times between 1904 and 1917 he escaped from Siberia, was recaptured and returned. The legend was on his way to being born.

In 1903 he had chosen to follow the aggressive Bolshevik faction of the party headed by Lenin when the Russian Socialist Democratic Party split.

BOLSHEVIK TRIUMPH—Under Lenin's direction this strong right arm of revolution against the czarist government wrote a pamphlet on the problem of national minorities.

By this time he had selected as his revolutionary name "Stalin" or "Man of Steel."

But in March, 1917, when the czar fell, the "Man of Steel" was an exile in a far-off corner of Siberia. Freed by the revolution, Stalin returned to help Lenin overthrow the moderate government of Kerensky. In November the Bolsheviks triumphed. In 1918 they took the name Communists. A deep rivalry and hatred developed between Stalin and Leon Trotsky within the party.

Lenin died in 1924. Trotsky was expelled from the party in 1927 and banished from Russia in 1929 and was assassinated in Mexico in 1949.

BLOOD AND POWER—Stalin's program for Russia was based on industrialization and collectivism. Those who failed of his expectations or opposed him met death.

Managers and engineers, politicians and even his second wife were "liquidated" in purges. The bloodletting included purging those who had conducted the purges!

Stalin's first wife died in 1907, his second wife in 1932 under mysterious circumstances when she protested in vain against the ruthless killings.

The history of the revolution was rewritten to Stalin's order. A kind of religious worship of Stalin was built up throughout the country.

The short little man with the dark, pock-marked face, slightly misshapen left arm and graying hair, became a pictured hero, the chosen of Lenin, a living legend of the revolution.

In World War II Stalin was both the friend and enemy of Hitler and the democracies. It was a cloak and dagger role well suited to the old Bolshevik. Today death, an enemy who can't be purged, has a dagger at Stalin's throat and holds his cloak—a shroud.

The Doctor Says...

Seek Advice If Simple Means Don't Check Chronic Fatigue

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

All of us suffer fatigue sometimes, but there are some people who are just always tired, seemingly without any reason.

The proper balance between work, recreation and sleep has to be worked out, of course. Change of occupation is not often recommended in these cases, because it usually does not succeed. Many people need to learn how to relax when they have the chance. The adoption of a balanced diet with plenty of vitamins is beneficial where the abnormal fatigue is at least partly due to faulty diet.

Some stimulating drugs are dangerous and should not be used unless under the advice of a physician.

Some who complain of being fatigued cannot identify the cause so easily. A true disease is sometimes at fault. For example, an anemia often shows up by lack of pep. People who suffer from chronic infections or disturbed bodily functions are also likely to feel tired all the time. Broken arches, overweight and many similar conditions also show by producing a state of chronic fatigue.

Diabetes, heart disease, tuberculosis, vitamin deficiencies, low blood pressure and low metabolism are among the disorders which may be discovered.

NEED RIGHT TREATMENT

When a definite physical condition can be found the proper treatment can be started. Each disease must be attacked by the measures which have been shown to be useful.

Those who are abnormally tired should first review and study the kind of life they are leading to make sure that they cannot solve the problem by simple means. If this cannot be done then the advice of a physician is indicated. If some physical cause—such as one of those mentioned—can be found, treatment is likely to be effective.

Africans Serve Ruark's Safari

By ROBERT C. RUARK

ISIOLO, Northern Kenya, East Africa—So much has been written about Mau Mau trouble lately that I don't propose to write any more about it. I'd like instead, to tell you about some Africans I know.

Like Juma, the headman. His full name is Juma Semauel, and the last name means "Truth Speaker." We call him Juma Semauel, which could be translated as an awful liar. Juma is a rogue, but a lovable one. He only tells you a fib when it's for your own good. He is also as basically honest as Abe, but he can scrounge like a regular army supply sergeant.

Juma is by way of being a bit of a priest of the Mohammedan faith, and he greatly disapproves of his Bwanas when they take a little gin to ward off the evening chills. But I notice that when the safari boys gather in Nairobi, Juma seems a little bloodshot in the eye department. Juma has a tremendous sense of humor, and he looks like a black Mickey Rooney with pierced ears.

The great man runs the safari. He runs Harry Selby, the nominal boss, and he runs me, and he runs the rest of the gang. The only person he doesn't run is mama. He and mama are allied against the rest of us. If there is a shortage of coke, Juma steals ours and saves it for mama. He does mama's hair and lets her sleep late and gives her the only tinned strawberries for breakfast. If the cigarettes are running low he steals ours and gives them to mama. In return, mama steals clothes and stuff from us to give to Juma.

Juma Takes All
Not that he needs any help in dressing himself. He arbitrarily decides what clothing he fancies, and after suitable time, appropriates same. Once Selby discovered Juma wearing a fancy pair of socks belonging to Harry, Juma informed Harry it was the duty of every Bwana to keep his personal factotum stylishly arrayed so that the man could be a credit to the master. He took one look through my kit, shook his head sadly, and informed me that I had nothing worth commanding except a cashmere sweater. "I'll have that," Juma said. He will, too.

When news of mama's arrival hit camp, Juma allowed that his rags were good enough to serve the Bwana but not appropriate for mama. Two hundred shillings later he turned up gorgeous in a new scarlet jacket, a couple of silk nightgowns called kenzus, and a pair of embroidered fezes. In addition to being a priest, Juma is a hypnotist. He hypnotized the 200 shillings out of me.

Juma lives in the jungle 10

Detroit Firm Lands Navy Boat Contract

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy Wednesday awarded the Detroit Basin, Inc., of Detroit Mich., a contract for the construction of 19 rescue boats.

The Navy said the contract awarded to the Detroit firm was one of a series awarded to small boat builders throughout the nation for the construction of the rescue boats, popularly known as "crash boats." The total value of the contracts, excluding government equipment, was placed at five million dollars by the Navy.

months a year, but is deathly afraid of lions, leopards, elephants, buffalo, rhino, and snakes. I am certain he would take them all on, singly or collectively, if one of his Bwanas or mama were threatened.

Good Servants
Part of this family of mine out here is old Ali, a fine gentle sort of sweet old man, who is the best cook in the world. All my men are coal-black gentlemen. Adam (or Metheke) the Wakamba gun-bearer, is frightened of no living thing. He has no teeth in front, because the Kambas file their teeth and they drop out after a while. But the grin is the better for it.

No millionaire's butler performs his divers jobs better than Abdullah and Joseph, Juma's assistants. They take a pride in personal service which is almost unknown to day. Their dignity is great, their humor good.

Old Katunga, the mad skinner, is possibly the best witch doctor I know, and a fine pharmacist among his own herbs. Chege, the lorry driver is as good a mechanic as you'll find—and a gentleman besides. He's the only Kikuyu in the bunch, but the Swahili and Kamba think he's a good bloke.

There's not a man in the bunch I wouldn't trust with my life, wife, gun or money. Not a sulker, not a skulker. Not a groveller or a schemer. We are not all Mau Mau out here—not by a long shot!

Mary Deserts Chop Suey For Grand Opera Career

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN

LUXEMBOURG—The little girl who introduced Chinese cuisine to the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg is preparing to set off soon on another career—grand opera in Sao Paulo, Brazil.

She is Mary Fei, or in Chinese, Fei Lui-Li, 23-year-old foster daughter of the justice minister in the Chinese nationalist government on Formosa, Tseng Pai-Yo.

She and another music student from China, Cesar Teng or Teng Chang-Kuo, came to Luxembourg several months ago and opened the Duchy's first and only Chinese restaurant, "La Chine," on a small side street back of the main drag.

For six years she and Teng had been studying music at the Brussels academy of music, concentrating on voice, piano and violin. When funds began to run low, and their families could no longer pay their tuition and support them in the expensive Belgian capital, they decided to go into a business which is almost traditional for expatriate Chinese.

When they opened in Luxembourg, they had their troubles. As newcomers and foreigners, they had to operate for three months without any sort of liquor license. This meant they had to serve their Chinese meals without beer, wine or other liquors.

They took in a young Polish refugee to help in the kitchen, and a young German girl refugee to help wait on tables. Almost unique among European restaurants, they levy no service charge.

"When the owners do the waiting on tables," they explain, "there's never a charge."

Now, with a fairly flourishing business, they both have their eyes on the opera house at Sao Paulo.

Miss Fei, who is small, even for a Chinese, can put a lot of expression into her tiny hands, flashing black eyes and soft but excellent English. Says she:

"They say that the opera at Sao Paulo is a reproduction of the Paris Opera. It sounds like the place I'd like to sing."

"Maybe at first, as we did here, we'll have to start up a restaurant to get along but my heart is always with the opera."

When they ran out of funds in Brussels they thought about staying on to continue their studies at the conservatory there. But Brussels already had several Chinese restaurants, and good ones. Besides, it is difficult for a foreigner to start up a business in Belgium.

So Miss Fei and Teng hit upon Luxembourg. It is easier there for a foreigner, and it has a small but bustling musical circle centering on a modest opera house.

They found a small second floor suite in a made-over apartment and fixed up a kitchen and a small dining room. At noon and in the evenings, they worked at eggrolls, sweet and sour pork and other Chinese dishes. In between times, they concentrated on their music.

Mary found a home in the Luxembourg opera company. Just last December she sang the lead role in "Mme. Butterfly," Luxembourg audiences and critics gave her an ovation.

Much to their pleasant surprise they attracted a group of elder Luxembourgers who once established a steel mill at Hankow on the Chinese coast. Some of these "old China hands" drop in from time to time for a nostalgic taste of days in the Far East.

The opening of "La Chine" almost coincided with the provisional establishment of the Schuman Plan headquarters in Luxembourg. Lining in a host of new residents, many of them with a taste for oriental cooking. These various factors finally put "La Chine" in the black.

But, in Miss Fei's words, Luxembourg is a small place.

"Musically," she says, "I think my best future is in South America. I like Luxembourg and am grateful for the haven I have found here. But I want to make my living by music and singing and I don't think I can do that here."

Sam Houston, United States Senator from Texas before the Civil War, came to Washington wearing a vest made from panther skin, the National Geographic Society recalls.

Proposed Law Puts Lakes Fishermen Under Social Security

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Oliver P. Bolton (R-Ohio) prepared for introduction a bill that he said would bring thousands of Great Lakes fishermen under social security.

Bolton's bill would extend old age and survivors insurance to fishermen who work on boats of 10 tons or less. They are not covered under the present law.

The Ohioan said in a statement that the denial of such benefits to Great Lakes fishermen because they work on small boats "is rank discrimination without rhyme or reason."

One out of 10 Michigan Paychecks

Here's something you probably never realized—

One out of every 10 paychecks received by Michiganders is paid by the motor transport industry—by the trucks you see serving you every day on our highways.

So, you see, trucks not only pay a large percentage of the tax revenues received by the State each year—they also provide the livelihood of thousands of Michigan citizens.

As a matter of fact, to make a graphic comparison—while the railroads give employment to approximately 36,000 Michiganders, the trucking industry comes through with paychecks for nearly 250,000 people in this State!

Another interesting and significant fact is that, whereas the average wage for all industries in Michigan is $3,250, the average wage paid by the trucking industry amounts to $4,078.

If you've got it, a truck brought it!

TOGETHER AFTER 3500 YEARS—The right fragment of the scullered head of Tutmosis, of Egypt, has been part of the Munich, Germany, art collection for many years, and all hope was lost of ever finding the rest of the head. Recently an art dealer in the city gave the museum a sculptured fragment which he had no use for, and it was found to be the other half of the head. The sculpture is at least 3500 years old.

Several Dogs Poisoned Here

City police have been advised by a resident of the east end of the city that their pet Chow, which they had for the past four years, was poisoned and killed this week.
 This is the third instance of dog poisoning here in the past several weeks.
 Chief of Police Torval Kallersson advises that poisoning of animals is contrary to law and that indiscriminate setting out of poison may kill many valuable dogs and cats, prized as pets.
 He suggested that where dogs or cats are a nuisance that their owner or owners be contacted and if the situation is not remedied that the police department be advised.

New Reading For Children Received At Public Library

Some outstanding selections, especially recommended for juvenile readers by the Junior Literary Guild, have been received at the Manistique Public Library in addition to a group of dramas for the selective reading lists of the high school level. These include:

Peter's Long Walk. Lee Kingman's latest picture book, deals with the surprises that Peter, just turned five and anxious to start school, meet on this first adventuresome walk through the woods to the village school. The illustrations by Barbara Clooney are colorful and appealing.

Beasts and Nonsense. by Marie Hall Ets, is a book of verse and pictures of zoo animals. It has just the right mixture of gravity and nonsense and is a book for anyone with a spark of fun.

Children of the Blizzard. by Heluiz Washburne and Anautia, will double pleasure and excitement in reading of the adventures of Salmo and his Eskimo friends—for every incident in this story is based on what actually happened years ago in the childhood of Anautia, a real Baffin Island Eskimo. It is one of the only books for children that has been published about Eskimos of Baffin Island, who are very different from those of Labrador, Alaska and Greenland.

Anne Tufts' As the Wheel Turns is the story of a growing country—one changing from agriculture to manufacturing—the United States in the year 1814. It is the story of Anthony Bryce who fled England taking with him his father's invention of the power loom.

The Last Fort. by Elizabeth Coatsworth, is a story of the French Voyageurs who went by canoe from the St. Lawrence and Ottawa Rivers, through the Great Lakes to Green Bay, and into the fertile Mississippi Valley. It is a tale of rugged adventure.

The new dramas include Maxwell Anderson's The Eve of St. Mark: The Green Pastures, by Marc Connelly; Candle in the Wind, by Anderson; Masterlinck's The Blue Bird; Anderson's Star Wagon and Knickerbocker Holiday; The White Headed Boy, by Robinson and A Bell for Adano, the play by Osborn from the novel by John Hersey.

Check Titles For Pipeline

Ownership of land through which the proposed Canadian oil pipeline will pass in Schoolcraft is being checked by G. Leslie Bouschor, county clerk and register of deeds, for the Lakehead Pipeline Company's office in Saginaw.

After title to property on the route is determined the pipeline firm is endeavoring to secure options.

The county clerk reported yesterday that title to property east of Manistique to the county line has been largely determined. Still to be checked are titles in the city and in most of the area west to the Schoolcraft line.

Bouschor said that the pipeline may not necessarily follow the preliminary survey route through the county. Possible route changes will be based on inability to secure purchase options and to avoid crossing difficult terrain such as watery swamps and marshes.

Completion of the pipeline, which will run from Edmonton, Alberta, to Sarnia, Ontario, is scheduled for next fall.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving memory of our dear mother, Grace H. Garvin, who passed away two years ago, March 6, 1951.

The sun and moon are shining On a lone and silent grave; Beneath lies one we dearly loved, But whom we could not save. Time may ease the sorrowing hearts,

Time makes the wound less sore. But time will never stop the longing For the loved one gone before.

Sadly missed by her children

Trojans Shake Off Baraga Threat To Cop 70-59 Win

NEGAUNEE (Special) — The St. Joe Trojans encountered unexpected resistance from the Marquette Baraga Blue Jacks in the Class C district basketball opener here last night before applying the pressure in the final period to win 70-59.

The victory moves Coach Tom St. Germain's Trojans into the district finals Saturday night again L'Anse which drew a first round bye. Title game tipoff will be at 8:30.

The Blue Jacks, who were beaten by St. Joe 80-51 here Saturday night in the regular season finale, clung tenaciously to the Trojans who had trouble finding the hoop early in the game.

Hit 28 Free Throws
But St. Joe, using the free throw line as a springboard to victory, had command of the game through most of the action before a sparse crowd in the huge Memorial gymnasium here.

From the charity line the Trojans clicked on 28 of 38 shots. And from the field they out-scored Baraga 21 goals to 19.

St. Joe entered the final period leading 44-22. Baraga wrestled the lead from St. Joe early in the period but the Trojans forged ahead 51-49 with five minutes remaining and then pulled steadily away.

Baraga lost three men in the final period, with Buddy Campbell, Albert Greene and Fezzy drawing their fifth personal fouls. Campbell was the first to leave, fouling out with two minutes, 45 seconds remaining.

Fast Finish
In the final two minutes of action the Trojans scored eight free throws and one field goal. In that same time Baraga was held to four free throws.

Baraga scored first after the opening tipoff with Fred Bureau potting a one-hand push. St. Joe tied it up with free throws and went ahead 4-2 before Baraga hit again to knot it 4-4. The score was tied 7-7 and 8-8 before the Trojans went ahead 10-8 on Jim Gravelle's free throw at the end of the period.

Baraga never caught up in the second period but they pressed the Trojans all the way. Another last-second field goal by Gravelle gave the Trojans a 32-29 spread at the half.

It was tight all the way in the third period with Baraga's Ron Beauchamp's field goal from the middle court line narrowing it to 44-42 going into the final quarter.

Sendenburgh Top Scorer
Center Dick Bryson led St. Joe's attack in the final period with 10 points. The Trojans hit for a 26-point total in the finale.

Guard Bob Sendenburgh paced St. Joe with 17 points while Bryson chipped in 13 and Gravelle 11. Second-period scoring by Jerry McDonough and Jim Zimmerman kept St. Joe out in front when Coach Armas Hemari's Blue Jacks made their determined bid for victory just before the half.

For the Trojans it was the 14th victory this season against three defeats.

ROCK — (Special) — Rapid River and Powers moved past semifinal Class D district basketball tournament foes with relative ease here last night and will meet for the 1953 championship Saturday night at 9 o'clock.

Carney measured Daggett 49-23 in the Class E opener last night and tonight faces defending champion Nahma at 7. Perkins and Trenary meet in the windup tonight at 8:30.

Coach Keith Hines' Rapid River Rockets disposed of defending champion Vulcan by a 60-54 by breaking away from a 52-52 tie with three minutes and 30 seconds remaining in the game.

Powers came back from a 19-18 first period deficit to defeat Cooks 67-59 in the other game.

Vulcan Rallies
Rapid River entered the final period leading Vulcan 50-40 and it looked like a runaway for the Rockets. But the Giant Killers made a determined stand and cut the margin to 50-45 and then knotted it at 52-52.

Rapid had lost forward Jim

Johnson at the end of the third period and center Waldon Johnson six minutes, 45 seconds remaining in the game.

With three and a half minutes remaining Bob Hamilton hit on a free throw to give Rapid a 53-52 margin. Victor Zar, Rapid River captain, caged a field goal to make it 55-52 and from there on out the Rockets took charge of the game.

Vulcan's Albert Bray and Zar shared scoring honors for the night with 20 points apiece. Waldon Johnson collected 18 before fouling out.

Sets Tourney Mark

Zar scored 12 of his total in the third period to keep the Rockets out in front at the crucial stage of the game.

After erasing Cooks' 19-18 first quarter lead, Powers tied it at 21-21, again at 32-32 and at 34-34 before pulling away for good.

Loss of Douglas Murray, center, on fouls midway in the fourth period hurt Cooks. He had three fouls in the first period, sat out the second and drew his fourth foul early in the third.

Deadly distance shooting by John Jacques of Cooks kept Coach Bob Thibault's quint in contention. His 27-point total was high for the tournament thus far.

Ray Wells led Coach Irv Soderlund's Tigers with 20 points, while lanky center Jim Sargent popped in 14. Guards Don O'Neil and Don Bellefeuille each contributed 10.

Center LeRoy LaVeau paced Carney's winning effort with 13 points.

Deal Off To Sell 49ers To Texans

SAN FRANCISCO — Co-owner Tony Morabito said a deal to sell his San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League to Texas bidders is "definitely off." Morabito previously said Clinton W. Murchison of Dallas and his brother John had made an acceptable bid.

Morabito did not disclose who negotiations fell through, but said the team was still for sale.

BATON ROUGE, La. — Twenty-two closely bunched par-busting golfers go after first round leaders Chandler Harper and Freddie Haas Jr., today as the $10,000 Baton Rouge Open swings into its second day.

Harper and Haas were knotted at four-under-par 68.

Expect Last Of Tigers To Join Fold Shortly

LAKELAND, Fla. — Veteran infielder Billy Hitchcock, the only Tiger as yet unsigned to a 1953 contract, was expected to come to terms shortly with the Detroit front office.

Hitchcock, obtained via the trade route from the Philadelphia Athletics, conferred with Tiger general manager Charley Gehringer yesterday, shortly after Gehringer arrived for his first visit to the Tiger training camp.

The veteran infielder has been in workouts with the Tigers all week, despite his unsigned contract. Hitchcock previously said he expected no trouble in reaching a salary agreement with Detroit.

The small town of Hermansville boasts a pair of potent independent basketball quints who own impressive records this season. . . . The Rodman's Bar Foxes have run up a string of 19 straight independent wins. . . . And Joe's Tavern, right down the street, has almost as long a win skein. They've won 17 straight since dropping the season opener to Escanaba Harnischfeger. It looks like a meeting of the two teams would be a sports natural, eh.

Victor Zar, the only senior on the Rapid River Rocket basketball quint, was elected team captain by his mates this week. Zar played an important role in Rapid River's recent upset victory over the St. Joe Trojans here.

The Harlem Globetrotters return to the Upper Peninsula this month. . . . They're slated to appear at the Negaunee Memorial gym on Saturday, March 21, against a Marquette county all-star team. . . . Last season the Globetrotters set an all-time record when they won 325 games and lost only eight. . . . On the team are such stars as Pop Gates, Duke Cumberland, Ducky Joore and Oris Hill, 6-7 center.

Frank Rodman of Hermansville says the 1953 15th annual Gold Medal basketball tournament is shaping up as the best in recent years. Just about every major independent team in the Upper Peninsula and Northern Wisconsin will enter and the record of 30 entries last year is likely to be broken.

Soo Loretto, one of the two Upper Peninsula high school cage quints that elected to compete in district tournament play downstate last night opening game Wednesday night to Cheboygan Catholic Central by a 45-43 margin. St. Ignace is the other U. P. school competing downstate on the district level. Both are Class C schools. . . . It is the first time any U. P. schools have elected to miss district play above the Straits.

Weary Hawks Lose 8-5 To Marquette Sextet

MARQUETTE — (Special) — The weary Escanaba Hawks who have been playing a steady stream of hockey games in the closing days of the Northern Michigan League faded in the third period here last night and dropped an 8-5 decision to the Marquette Sentinels before 1,975 fans at Palestra Stadium.

Until the third period the Hawks had matched Marquette goal for goal. The score was tied 1-1 at the end of the first period and 3-3 at the close of the second.

Escanaba's goalie, Ben Artwich, was a standout on the ice all night. Cut over the eye by Johnny Vasseau's stick midway in the final period, Artwich finished the game with a total of 46 saves, many of them spectacular stops that thwarted Marquette scoring drives. Jim DeMarinis, youthful Marquette netminder, stopped 31 Hawk shots.

Joe Ricci, back in action after a leg injury, opened Escanaba's scoring at 7:46 of the first period on a pass from Mark Olson. Van-Cud Van Overloop, who hit the hat trick for Marquette, tied it up with only 12 seconds remaining in the period.

Hawks Lead 3-1
Mark Olson put Escanaba back in front 2-1 with a solo goal at 5:37 of the second period and Ricci hit his second goal at 8:05 on a pass from Ted Olson to stretch the Hawk margin to 3-1. Roy Olson hit for Marquette at 9:22 and again the Sentinels scored in the last half minute of the period, Jim Eady denting the nets at 19:30.

Marquette's five goals: 1—the last period smothered the firing Hawks who are slated to close the season Saturday night at Calumet. That game will be their fifth in seven nights.

Thirteen penalties were called in the clash last night, nine on the Hawks and four on the Sentinels. Marquette—DeMarinis, Marlow, Boesler, R. Olson, Vasseau, Van Overloop, G. Olson, Quinn, Eady, Swenor, Lawrence, J. O'Neill, Johnson, McLaughlin, Wanberg.

Escanaba — Artwich, Hamilton, Broughton, M. Olson, Serbinaki, T. Olson, Schultz, Ricci, Webster, Provo, Pelaja, Matt Higgins, Ogile, Anthony.

Scoring: Ricci (M. Olson), 7:46; Van Overloop (Vasseau), 19:48.

Penalties: Hamilton, cross-checking; Boesler, intentionally falling on puck; Matt, slashing; Wanberg, hooking; T. Olson, tripping.

League cellar this year hinge on Houtteman. Art has been plagued by bad luck—both on and off the diamond.

In 1949, the young hurler was almost killed in an automobile accident during the spring training grind. Houtteman missed six weeks of the 1949 season, but managed to record a 15-10 mark.

Posted 19 Wins
Art's best season came the following year when he won 19 games while dropping twelve decisions.

Houtteman went into the Army the following year 1951.

Last year his infant daughter was killed and his wife injured in another automobile accident prior to the start of the regular season. Houtteman lost 20 games in the 1952 season as against eight winning starts.

Both Houtteman and Hutchinson hope for a good year this season. Houtteman has the stuff — a fast ball, a curve and a change of pace. A few breaks from lady luck would also help.

Maroons Drub Eagles; Eskys Tackle Braves In Tourney Tonight

STEPHENSON — (Special) — The powerful Menominee Maroons out-classed Stephenson's Eagles here last night by a 79-47 margin to open action in the Class B district basketball tournament.

Defending champion Escanaba takes to the court tonight against the Gladstone Braves at 8:30 (Escanaba time) to determine the team which will face Menominee in the championship match Saturday night.

The Maroons found Stephenson an easy mark last night and led 23-7 at the end of the first period.

League Leaders Get Easy Wins

Harnischfeger and Skinny's Bar kept their 1-2 positions in the City League cage standings last night by turning in lopsided loop victories.

The league leading Harnies, paced by Ed Gauthier with 23 points, belted Paper Mill 83-31. Skinny's showed scoring balance in besting Gladstone Marble Arms 74-42.

Angie Hinn hit for 18, Bobby Anderson and Tom Brien 14, Mickey Kuchenberg and Don Scott 11 for Skinny's.

Phil Creten, the Harnies big center, chipped in 15 against Paper Mill. The losers were paced by Noel and Young with six points apiece.

The Al's Tavern-Kessler's game slated last night was postponed.

From the midway point in the second period it was strictly no contest as Menominee pulled steadily away. Stephenson was unable to shake the tournament jitters.

The Eagles salvaged high point honors, however, with guard Stan Luczkowski firing in 19 tallies on seven buckets and five free throws. The first five Menominee players hit in double figures, contributing all but 10 of the Maroons' 72 points. Forward John Bruemmer led the way with 18.

Most Valuable Player To Forget About Homers

Sauer Will Change Tactics

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Hammerin' Hank Sauer, who nailed down the National League's Most Valuable Player Award in 1952, may not do as much fence-busting this season. He just wants to "get good wood on every pitch."

The husky Chicago outfielder, tied with Ralph Kiner for home run honors with 37 last year, concedes his race with Kiner caused a decline in his hitting. Actually, he slumped from a .350 mid-June batting average to a final figure of .270.

"Without realizing it until it was too late," he said yesterday at Mesa, Ariz., "I allowed myself to become a pressure victim last season. In my desire to win the home run crown, I was swinging for the seats almost every time I stepped to the plate."

Learned His Lesson
"This year there'll be no more switching bats or shifting stances. I'll settle for my natural swing. I learned my lesson and it won't happen again."

Last season was the fifth consecutive year in which the 33-year-old flycatcher hit at least 30 home runs. He compiled his highest average, .275, in 1949 when he drove out 31 circuit wallops.

Meanwhile, Wally Westlake, another veteran outfielder, had other ideas.

Westlake, on the comeback trail with the Cleveland Indians after a poor year, is aiming for the fences on the advice of Manager

Al Lopez and getting results. He hit several over the left field fence at Tucson, Ariz., yesterday.

Eyes Comeback

"Take a healthier cut," Lopez told him. "Be vicious. I don't care if you fall down because you swing so hard. Use your strength."

If his comeback succeeds, Westlake is sure of a regular job in right field, Lopez says, for "he's an excellent outfielder, can run well and his arm is strong."

Also at St. Petersburg, Fla., St. Louis Browns owner Bill Veeck said it looked like his club will stay in St. Louis. He said he did not discuss the rumored Milwaukee switch in his recent talks with William Harbridge, president of the American League.

Two Players Sign

Two more players signed their 1953 contracts yesterday. Outfielder Gus Zernial of the Philadelphia A's came to terms for an estimated $22,000 and first baseman Eddie Waitkus of the Philadelphia Phillies agreed to a reported $20,000 pact.

Other news: Catcher Joe Rossi smashed a 400-foot homer in Pittsburgh's intra-squad game. Manager Rogers Hornsby nominated Eddie Eratt and Bud Podbielan to divide the mound chores in Cincinnati's first exhibition game against the Boston Red Sox tomorrow. Gus Niarhos, who made only six hits all last season, lashed out three singles as the Red Sox veterans routed the rookies. Rookie catcher Charley Thompson had two stitches taken over his right ear after being hit with a bat during a Brooklyn Dodger batting drill.

Three Defending Champions Enter Tourney Play Friday

By JOE FALLS
(AP Sports Writer)

Three defending champions go into action Friday night, two of them for the first time, all hoping to escape the fate which has struck down over 250 teams in the State High School Basketball Tournament.

That's how many teams have been tumbled out of the tourney, and they'll keep falling, too, until only five are left to rule as champions of classes A, B, C, D and E.

But coronation time is a long way off, and these clubs will have to prove their right to the throne by winning on the basketball floor.

Champions Win Second

Detroit St. Andrew, the defending Class B champion, is headed in the right direction. It won its first two games—including a 51-38 verdict over St. Theresa Thursday night—and will sit by and watch while the other titleholders sweat it out Friday night.

Fowler, 12-2, the Class D champion which whipped Lyons earlier, comes back against Westphalia Friday night.

The other two rulers—St. Louis (Class C) and Nahma (Class E)—will be getting their first taste of competition—and they hope it'll be a sweet one.

St. Louis 14-2 meets Hemlock while Nahma, the northern peninsula kingpin, goes against Carney.

Tough Road Ahead

The next time Detroit St. Andrew plays will be Saturday night, when it participates in its district final. In beating St. Theresa, St. Andrew racked up its 66th victory in 67 games.

But the deck seems stacked against St. Andrew. Just take a look at these powerhouses in Class B:

1. Three Rivers (15-1), which meets Vicksburg Friday night. Many experts feel Three Rivers easily is the best team in this division.

2. Holland Christian (16-2) which ripped South Haven, 53-19, Thursday night. Holland features a stout defense, and proved it against South Haven by holding that team to two field goals.

3. Alpena Catholic Central (18-0), which trounced Cheboygan, 53-27, Thursday night.

Virtually the same holds true in Class C, where St. Louis' chief opposition figures to come from Muskegon St. Mary's (13-2) and Edwardsburg (14-3).

Class D Strength

In Class D, it's hard to see how Fowler can repeat, especially when the field includes such powers as Detroit All Saints (18-0) and Muskegon St. Joseph (16-3).

After the district eliminations, survivors go into next week's regionals, joined by the Class A teams, which do not play in the districts.

After that, comes the quarter-finals March 18 and, finally, the semi-finals and finals March 20-21 in Lansing and East Lansing.

Some 400 teams still are in the running.

Graham Favored Over Giardello

NEW YORK (AP)—Welterweight contender Billy Graham is a 2 to 1 favorite to beat middleweight Joey Giardello at Madison Square Garden tonight.

"This time I'll be so far in front there won't be any room for argument," said Graham, loser of two split decisions to the 22-year old Philadelphia.

The 12-rounder will be broadcast (ABC) and telecast (NBC) starting at 9 p. m. (CST).

The last Graham-Giardello fight brought on the famous reversal by commission chairman Bob Christenberry and then the reversal of the reversal by Supreme Court Justice Bernard Botwin.

After Giardello was awarded a split decision Christenberry changed two rounds on one judge's scorecard and declared Graham the winner. Giardello took it to court and Judge Botwin gave Joey back the decision.

Gophers Play Host To Purdue In Finale

CHICAGO (AP)—The basketball season ends Saturday for Minnesota and Purdue, but the remaining eight members of the Big Ten finish Monday.

The Gophers (10-7) entertain Indiana, which has clinched the loop title with 16 straight victories.

Purdue, currently in last place with a 3-14 record, goes to Iowa, which will try to break its fifth place tie with Wisconsin at 8-8.

Illinois already has clinched second place on its 12-4 record. The Illini will play at Ohio State 6-10.

Other games Saturday: Michigan (3-13) at Michigan State (10-6); Northwestern (5-11) travels at Wisconsin (8-8).

Gophers Defeat MSC To Take Hockey Lead

EAST LANSING (AP)—Minnesota was in first place today in the Midwest Collegiate Hockey League, thanks to a 7-3 victory here last night over Michigan State. The win gave Minnesota a one-point edge over North Dakota.

Michigan State is at the bottom of the league standings' with no hope of advancing.

Baseball Managers Hit New Ruling On Umpires

By JACK HAND

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Jimmy Dykes is burning about the new American League ruling that says an umpire's judgment must not be questioned by a layer, manager or coach.

The manager of the Philadelphia A's ended his brief armistice with the ump's after reading the new rule from the office of Will Harbridge, American League president.

"We're going to have to educate the public to pay more attention," said Dykes with a straight face. "Mickey Mantle and those other boys don't mean a thing anymore. It's only the umpires the people pay to see. Now they're putting the four umpires on a pedestal."

Will Lack Color

"If they want colorless games, it's okay with me. I'm warning my players the first to get tossed out of a game for questioning an umpire's judgment will get a fine from me. If that's the way they want it, they can have it."

Dykes loosened this blast as he re-read the rules in the A's club house.

The rule on umps reads like this: "Effective with the opening of the American League season, any decision involving the accuracy of an umpire's judgment may not be questioned by a manager, player or coach."

New Rule Stated

"No manager, player or coach shall be permitted to leave the bench or his position on the field to question an umpire's decision on calling of balls and strikes or the so-called 'half strike'."

"For violation of this rule, a manager, player or coach will be removed from the game."

General Manager Art Ehlert of the A's backed up Dykes blast. "They want to take all the color out of baseball," said Ehlert.

"What do they want the players to do, sit around like mummies? Next thing they'll have the electric eye or the photo that they use at race tracks."

If the umpires do get the quiet treatment from Dykes, they won't be sure they're in the right ball park.

Fouls Cost Stroh's Team Lead In ABC

CHICAGO (AP)—Members of Stroh's Beer bowling team, which Thursday night fouled away the lead in the American Bowling Congress tournament, will attempt to regain some lustre today in the singles and doubles.

Buzz Fazio, leadoff and captain of the Detroit five, national team match game champions, had three bad moments Thursday night as the Strohs blazed away for 3102 and second place.

The Strohs finished four pins below the top rung, occupied by the Cincinnati Budweiser's team. The Ohioans posted their leading 3106 score on Feb. 27.

Get Hotter

The Detroit quintet started with 965, warmed up to a 1008 in the second game and wound up with a sensational 1129, the highest since the 1941 ABC meet.

Fazio, a cool, efficient strike-collector, fouled twice in his opening game, costing the team at least 30 pins. In the big final game he pitched one in the gutter in the fifth frame as he attempted to pick up the No. 10 pin for a spare.

In spite of Fazio's bad luck, the Strohs still had a chance to grab first place as Lee Jougard, the team's anchorman, moved to the line for the 10th frame. Jougard, 1951 ABC singles champ with a record 775, had two strikes and needed one more to go to the front. He fired what appeared to be a perfect hit, but the No. 8 pin stood erect.

Second High Series

Jougard finished with a 225 and a 631 series, second best, topped only by Ed Lubanski's 653. Tom Hennessy had 628, Tony Lindeman 606 and Fazio 584.

In other team changes Thursday the Detroit Coca Colas gained fourth place with 3005 and Bean's Sports Shop of South Bend, Ind., tied for eighth with 2906.

In the all-events Robby Robinson, a Chicago bowling instructor, took the No. 1 spot with 1,947, while George Morrison of Chicago, all-events king in 1930, was second with 1929. Morrison also gained eighth in the singles with 680.
